On behalf of the Puget Sound Water Quality Action Team, the Georgia Basin Ecosystem Initiative partners and our generous co-sponsors, we invite your participation at the 2003 Georgia Basin/Puget Sound Research Conference from March 31 to April 3, 2003 in Vancouver, British Columbia. This international research conference will build upon the successes of the five previous Puget Sound conferences and the significant work currently underway in the shared Georgia Basin/Puget Sound ecosystems.

In addition to being the premier marine science gathering in this region, the 2003 conference will provide a venue for scientists and decision-makers from a wide range of disciplines to share results and information on important issues such as climate change, marine resources, indicator development and collaborative management approaches. With the assistance of the Conference Advisory Committee, we have developed a program that will enable the community of people concerned about the future of the

Pete Dowty
Puget Sound Action Team
Conference Co-Chair

Georgia Basin/Puget Sound to apply science in support of decision making, capacity building, and effective dialogue across disciplines and community interests.

The conference will emphasize linking research results to the challenge of regional sustainable development.

We are expecting up to 800 attendees representing the scientific and research communities, Coast Salish First Nations and tribes, academia and students, non-profit organizations, businesses and industries.

The program will offer approximately 60 technical sessions, panel discussions and workshops, poster presentations, and excellent keynote speakers. Please complete and send in the registration form included in this brochure to reserve your spot at the 2003 Georgia Basin/Puget Sound Research Conference.

We look forward to seeing you at the conference.

Conference Co-Chair

CONFERENCE PURPOSE & HIGHLIGHTS

The 2003 Georgia Basin/Puget Sound Research Conference provides a forum for presenting and discussing the environmental and natural resource science information that will guide our region's efforts to restore and protect the biological health and diversity of the Georgia Basin and Puget Sound.

Through this conference, the Puget Sound Action Team, the Georgia Basin Ecosystem Initiative partners and the conference co-sponsors offer a unique opportunity to communicate research results related to the Georgia Basin/Puget Sound environment and managing transboundary resources. Highlights include:

- Opening plenary session to characterize the challenges facing scientists and resource managers in the Georgia Basin/Puget Sound ecosystems and beyond.
- Presentation by Elizabeth Dowdeswell, former Executive Director of the United Nations Environment Programme, on mobilizing scientific and technical knowledge to solve global development challenges.
- Presentation by Billy Frank, Jr., Chairman of the Northwest Indian Fisheries Commission, on challenges facing joint management of Georgia Basin/Puget Sound resources.
- Presentation by Stephen Hume, author, lecturer and Vancouver Sun columnist, on personal reflections and anecdotes on living in this shared ecosystem.
- Meeting of the British Columbia/Washington State Environmental Cooperation Council (ECC).
- Joint session with the Pacific Estuarine Research Society (PERS) as part of its annual meeting.
- More than 50 sessions with oral presentations on recent scientific contributions to understand, restore, protect and manage the Georgia Basin/Puget Sound ecosystems.
- Poster presentations of recent scientific findings with multiple opportunities to speak with the authors.
- Presentations by students throughout the conference program.
- Informal discussions at the opening reception, poster-viewing sessions and beverage breaks to create and foster productive professional relationships.

WHO IS INVITED?

- Scientists who study ecological systems, environmental issues and natural resource management.
- Natural resource managers, including staff and officials from local, state/provincial, and federal governments as well as Coast Salish tribes and First Nations, who develop and implement projects, programs and policies to protect and restore aquatic and marine ecosystems.
- Citizens, educators, students and members of the environmental and business communities who are working toward recovery and sustainability of Georgia Basin/Puget Sound ecosystems.
- Members of the Pacific Estuarine Research Society, who will be opening their annual meeting at a joint session as part of this conference.
- Other interested individuals.

STUDENT SCHOLARSHIPS

A limited number of scholarships to the Georgia Basin/Puget Sound Research Conference are available to cover registration fees for students enrolled in U.S. universities and colleges.

The conference organizers are also currently working to secure funds to offer scholarships to Canadian students.

Students enrolled in environmental, marine science or marine policy courses will be given preference.

Students can download scholarship application guidelines on the Puget Sound Action Team web site, www.wa.gov/puget\_sound, or by calling (360) 407-7336. Applications are due by February 14, 2003. Applicants will be notified of scholarship awards by February 28, 2003.

CONFERENCE PROCEEDINGS

Conference organizers will publish full proceedings following the 2003 Georgia Basin/ Puget Sound Research Conference. Proceedings will be available from the Puget Sound Action Team's web site, www.wa.gov/puget\_sound.

All conference attendees will receive a copy of the CD-ROM version of the proceedings. Additional copies of the proceedings on CD-ROM will be available for a charge of US$15.00.

ELIZABETH DOWDESWELL

Presentation Title: "Science, Technology and Globalization: New Directions for Science in a Changing World?"

Ms. Dowdeswell served as Executive Director of the United Nations Environment Programme and Under Secretary General of the United Nations until 1998. Previously, she was Assistant Deputy Minister of Environment Canada responsible for the national weather and atmospheric agency. Recently Ms. Dowdeswell was appointed President and CEO of Canada's Nuclear Waste Management organization. During the past year, she has contributed to an initiative of the Center for Science and International Affairs at Harvard University, which focuses on how to mobilize the world's scientific and technical knowledge to solve global development challenges.

BILLY FRANK, JR.

Billy Frank, Jr., is a Nisqually tribal member who moved from a peaceful settlement to longstanding conflict throughout the Northwest. Frank received the Schweitzer Award for Humanity in 1998 for his numerous additional awards. His peacemaking efforts have resulted in solutions to numerous natural resource issues. Frank has served as chairman of the Northwest Indian Fisheries Commission for a quarter century, an agency that serves the tribal and state natural resource co-management with the state and federal governments.

*The Governor of Washington State and Premier of British Columbia established the Environmental Cooperation Council (ECC) in 1992. EECs purpose is to ensure coordinated action and information sharing on environmental matters of mutual concern. The ECC will be holding a meeting as part of this conference in Sessions 6F and 7F.

**The Pacific Estuarine Research Society (PERS) will open its annual meeting in Session 10D on April 3. For more information visit their web site at <http://www.ac.www.edu/%7Egilberj/pers.html>.

STEPHEN HUME*Presentation Title: "The Stewardship of Eden"

Stephen Hume, a visiting lecturer in journalism at the University of Victoria, is senior writer and columnist at The Vancouver Sun. His journalistic career spans 30 years in which he's covered everything from prize fights to prime ministers. In 1989, he joined The Sun as columnist-at-large, where his in-depth coverage of social issues serves to educate a broad public. Stephen is the award-winning author of six books of poetry, essays and natural history. Hume has more than a dozen awards for his journalism, poetry and essays. He won a Canadian Policy Research Award in 2001 and a Jack Webster Award for Journalism in 2002.

DRIVING DIRECTIONS

A map and printable driving directions can also be found at www.westin.com/bayshore.

From the U.S. Border (Peace Arch):

Follow the I-5 to the Peace Arch Border Crossing. Once you have passed through the border crossing into Canada, I-5 becomes Highway 99. Follow Highway 99 and when you cross the bridge the Highway becomes Oak Street. Follow Oak Street until you reach West 41st Avenue. Turn left and follow W 41st until you reach Granville Street. Proceed along Granville Street and over the Granville Street Bridge. Stay in the right lane of the Bridge and take the Seymour Street Exit. Follow Seymour Street until you reach Georgia Street. Turn left onto Georgia Street and follow until Cardero Street. Turn right and you will then see the Westin Bayshore at the foot of the hill on your left.

From the Vancouver International Airport:

Exit the Vancouver International Airport via Grant McConachie Way. This will lead you onto the Arthur Laing Bridge. Take the City Centre/Granville Street North Exit (on your right). Follow Granville Street northbound. This will eventually become the Granville Street Bridge. Stay in the right lane and take the Seymour Street Exit. Follow Seymour Street until you reach Georgia Street. Turn left onto Georgia Street. Follow Georgia Street until Cardero Street and turn right. You will then see the Westin Bayshore at the foot of the hill on your left.

From the East:

Follow Highway 1 to the Grandview Highway Exit. Grandview Highway turns into 12th Avenue. Follow 12th Avenue to Granville Street and turn right. This will eventually become the Granville Street Bridge. Stay in the right lane and take the Seymour Street Exit. Follow Seymour Street until you reach Georgia Street. Turn left onto Georgia Street. Follow Georgia Street until Cardero Street and turn right. You will then see the Westin Bayshore at the foot of the hill on your left.
